

Abstract

The invention relates to nucleic acid sequences and related compositions for producing over-expression of the polysaccharide PNAG of Staphylococci. PNAG may be isolated and formulated into vaccines or used to generate antibodies. Binding agents of the nucleic acids
5 are also described. The invention also relates to diagnostic and therapeutic methods using the compositions.

10

15

20